Looking more like a medieval gallows than a stage set (which it is) is this stairway being erected by members of the stage crew of the Torrance High School Senior Play, "That Brewster Boy," to be presented March 8 and 9, in the school auditorium. Proceeds will help defray class graduation expenses. Pictured are Dwight Hanna, Charlene St. Martin and Doyle Croshaw on stairs, Jerry Downing with hammer and Joan Ingles. (Herald photo).

'Brewster Boy' Author to View High School Senior Class Play

Playwright Pauline Hopkins, author of the play "That Brewster Boy," will view her play for the first time when the production is staged on the boards at Torrance High School Auditorium on Friday night, March 9.

Chosen as the Senior Class Play the production marks the first time that the play has been staged in Southern California.

Three performances of the play are being held by the cast. Yesterday the Torrance elementary school students viewed the play during a full-dress rehearsal while the high school students will see the play today. Tomorrow night the play is being staged for the general public.

In the title role as Joey Brewster is Duane Mittan. His sister Nancy, about whom the love interest centers, is portrayed by Irma Carstens, and Irwin Kasten and Barbara Jackson will be father and mother Brewster. Joey's pal, Pee Wee, will be played by Gary Carter, while Glynn Boyce will take the part of Philip Hayward, the interne in love with Nancy.

Others in the cast include: Martha Dunn, Grace Lafferty, Sally Radicky, Hal Laudeman, Elaine Rehewald, Ted White, Marian Westmoreland, Elvira Lindenburg, and Don Mitchell.

Student production manager is Zola Bellwood and student director is Donna Webber. Jackie Smith is script girl and Dwight Hanna is stage crew captain.

The play has been in production since December.

Back to the Blue and Gold dinner of February 25th. Cubs of this area receiving awards at that time were, Clifford Burke, Barry Dean Holstin, Gary Klopach, Bill Gravin, Richard Beard, and Craig Slater.

It seems a special mention should be made of Craig Slater. He is just out of the hospital from their auto accident. But even being in his cast did not keep him from the dinner, resplendent in his cub shirt, neckerchief, and cap. He received two silver arrows. Great going Craig.

Robetta Holstin, age 10, was rushed to the Torrance-Memorial Hospital, Monday, February 26th for an emergency appendectomy. She recuperated so rapidly that she was able to return to her home, 5121 Zakon road, Wednesday afternoon. The Girl Scouts of 1065 arrived en troupe, Saturday, to give Betty a Surprise party.

Little Jackie Jurisich of Bindewald had a very bad fall the other day. One of his front baby teeth was knocked completely out of place.

Carol Brady age 3, of 5324 Doris Way is still in the Harbor General Hospital, at the time of this writing, but her mother hoped to have her home soon.

Doris Herbst and Alice Beard tell us that their spouses went skiing over last week-end at Big Bear. They think! But that is O.K. They have got the children next weekend and Doris and Alice are on their own. They have plans too. Whee!

This is a new kind of party. Buzz Gravin had a birthday party last Sunday afternoon and the guests got to cook their own refreshment in the Gravin back yard, Macfee road.

Mrs. Leopold Rook of Vanderhill road has her brother with her now. Unfortunately he is not well. First the virus and now pneumonia.

Mrs. Reesor of Bindewald is down with the virus too. We certainly wish you a speedy recovery, Mrs. R.

Mrs. Leona (Lee) Stankus, of Macfee went to a television broadcast a couple of weeks ago. She says she had a wonderful time watching "The Comedy Hour."

We would like to introduce your new neighbors and then have you introduce yourself to them. On Bindewald—5312—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Webster and children, 5212—Mr. and Mrs. Milo Peck and son, Robert. The Pecks are from Massachusetts and are used to wind, so should feel at home here in the heights. Then on Zakon—5108—Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and two children, 5148—Mr. and Mrs. Eldon, and 5133 Macfee, Mr. and Mrs. John Soules (Mildred).

Look for a printed notice at your door soon. It will be the announcement of the next Home Owners Association meeting. Let's make it a big one.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Milson of Bindewald road were host and hostess last weekend to some very noteworthy people. Their guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Crane of Oakland, California, ladies are sisters of Jack Milson, and Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Adam

Lloyd Mitchell Heads Scout Circus Planning

Lloyd C. Mitchell, producer of the California Cavalcade during centennial celebrations, will produce the 1951 Scout Circus April 27-28 in the Hollywood Bowl, actor George Murphy, general chairman of the show, announced this week. The show is being staged by the Los Angeles Boy Scout Council.

Among the activities being lined up for the show are scenes depicting American history, Indian customs and modern camping practices. Patriotism is the central theme.

of Canada, B.C. Mr. Crane is retired but still holds an official post in his company. Irvin Adam is of no little fame in art circles and is in the States, on invitation, to show some of his pictures in Utah, Carmel, Oakland, and San Francisco. Also of fame is his wife, Doreen Adam, poet. She attained the high honor of being in "The Year Book of Canadian Poetry" this year. The Crane of Oakland, California, ladies are sisters of Jack Milson, lucky fellow.

Bill Collector Sends Students On Campaign

There's a free movie waiting for those Torrance High School students who collect a stack of newspapers three feet high next Thursday.

A student body debt of $863 is prompting the kids to get out and hustle up some small change in one way or another. One way they've decided on is a paper drive, and next Thursday, March 15, is the day.

Just leave them in bundles 10 to 12 inches high on the curb are the instructions being voiced around to paper savers in town. To insure that your collection is "picked up," call Torrance 645.
